Benoy Sarkar To Speak Here On Wednesday

Professor Benoy Sarkar, noted lecturer and author on subjects concerning India, will speak at assembly exercises Wednesday, April 13.

His subject, "The Unities and Disunities of India," will concern one of the most significant current world problems. The professor from India has traveled in Asia, Europe, and the United States, lecturing extensively in an effort to enlighten the world as to conditions in India.

One of the foremost educators in India, Professor Sarkar is a founder of the National Council of Education in Bengal. He has been a lecturer in economics, sociology, and political science at Calcutta university since 1926. Since 1947 he has also been head of the department of economics and commerce at the Calcutta institution.

Professor Sarkar is the author of a number of books and articles in Italian, French, German, English and Bengali. Written on history, sociology, and economics, his recent publications in English, included THE SOCIOLOGY OF POPULATION, Calcutta, 1936; CREATIVE INDIA, Lahore, 1937; INTRODUCTION TO HINDU POSITIVISM, Allahabad, 1937; VILLAGES AND TOWNS AS SOCIAL PATTERNS, Calcutta, 1941; THE POLITICAL PHILOSOPHIES SINCE 1905, Volume II, 3 parts, Lahore, 1942; THE EQUATIONS OF WORLD-ECONOMY, Calcutta, 1943, and EDUCATION FOR INDUSTRIALIZATION, Calcutta, 1946.

The chapel address will be broadcast by local radio station WKCT.

ROTC Will Be Inspected May 2

Plans are being completed for the annual federal inspection of the ROTC to be conducted May 2, according to an announcement by Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, who calls the event the high point of the year for the local unit.

Infantry and Air boards each consisting of four officers will conduct the May 2 inspection, which will be divided into several parts.

The first phase of the program will be presentation of awards by local patriotic organizations. Examinations in leadership, drill, and exercise of command will be given next.

This examination will be followed by proficiency tests in subjects covered during the current school year. The tests will cover such things as ability of instructors; proper use of training aids; combat formations; rifle marksmanship; assembly, disassembly, and nomenclature of individual and crew served weapons; terrain problems; map problems; and tactical exercise of the squad, platoon, and company in attack and defense.

The Air unit is to be tested on such subjects as aeronautics, navigation, meteorology, and guided missiles.

Both units will receive an administrative inspection at which time all records, files, orders, and lesson plans will be inspected.

This year the Army and Air Force have decided that only one of two ratings, satisfactory or unsatisfactory, will be given.

Norris Barbre Listed In Science Magazine

A biographical sketch of Norris Barbre of the physics department, will appear in the next issue of AMERICAN MEN OF SCIENCE.

Other faculty members who have been featured in this magazine include Drs. Ward C. Sumpter and Glenn Dooley of the chemistry department, Drs. H. L. Stephens and L. Y. Lancaster, of the biology department, and Dr. Judson R. Griffin of the geography department.

Athletic, Military, Scholastic, And Press Honors Conferred In Chapel

John Oldham's selection as the "most valuable player of the year" on Western's 1948-49 basketball team highlighted the presentation of athletic, military and honorary awards made at chapel Wednesday morning. Dr. Paul L. Garrett, president, was in charge of the program during which honors were conferred upon the college, individual students and groups on the Hill.

Emmons O. Pearson, president of the Bowling Green Junior Chamber of Commerce, and four other members present, had as a committee selected Johnny Oldham as "the most valuable player" on the year's basketball squad. Bert Borrone, one of the committee, presented to Oldham a five-piece silver serving set donated by Dr. W. R. McCormack, local physician.

The two graduating members of the squad, Oldham and Charles Parsley, received certificates for new suits of clothes on behalf of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Army Day program was begun with Claude Rose of the music department leading the assembly in the singing of the national anthem. This was followed by the presentation by Kelly Thompson of honorary certificates to this year's seniors listed in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

Elected to the honor are Betty Topmiller, Dorothy Taylor, Louise Bridgewater, Betty Ray, Elaine Jones, Edna Mae Parks, Anne Reiley Cochran Barlow, Steeley Veach, Charles Wheeler, Charles Solley, John Nolan, Linda Lee Hays, June

Steeley Veach Gives Recital

Steeley Veach

Steeley Veach, tenor, will be presented in a Graduation Recital on Tuesday evening, April 19, at 8:15 p.m. in the Music building.

One of the highlights of this program will be selections from Schubert's immortal song cycle "Die Schone Mullerin."

Other works to be performed are taken from Handel's "Acis and Galatea"; Verdi's "La Traviata"; Lalo's "Le Roi D'ys"; Milton's "Comus" set to music by Thomas Arne; and Bononcini's "Griselda." The remaining selections will be from German, French and English repertoire by such composers as Bach,

BULLETIN

The Senior class will entertain with a tea dance at the Kentucky building from 4 to 5:30 p. m., April 12.

The tea is open to members of the Senior class and their guests. The affair has been designated a silver tea and, although admittance is free, volunteer contributions will be used by the class to pay for the bronze plaque being presented to the College by the class.

John Oldham is assisted from the stage in Van Meter auditorium by Coach Ed Diddle after receiving the "Most Valuable Player Award" the chapel exercises and received Paul L. Garrett, above, presided at the Chapel exercises and received several awards on behalf of the college.

Baxter, Dorothy Coffey, Hazel and Helen Willett, Charles Parsley, John Oldham, Pat McNeil and Verna Lee Stone, Miss Stone and Mr. Solley were not present for the presentation.

Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, had charge of the next phase of the exercises. He made a brief talk on Army Day and the place of the ROTC in national security, and presented to the school the rifle team trophy won for a year through two marksmanship victories over Eastern and a scroll awarded the local ROTC unit by the Department of Army for "proficiency in the training of the ROTC at Western throughout the year ending June, 1948."

Charles Wheeler, editor of the HERALD, presented a certificate of award from the Columbia University Scholastic Press Association signifying that the HERALD has been acclaimed the number one college newspaper in Kentucky, and has been named first class in a national college paper rating. Dr. Gar-

Clinton Plays At Freshman Dance

Larry Clinton and his orchestra of modern bebop fame, made a special hit with those who enjoy a lot of fast numbers when he played at the freshman dance Friday evening, March 25. Also featuring a variety of other tempos, the dance was termed a success.

The maestro turned from progressive jazz for such numbers as the nobreaks: "My Darlin'", "It's the Talk of the Town," "So Tired," "Maybe You'll Be There," "Far Away Places," and "The Man I Love." The freshman special was the ever-popular "Stardust."

Radio station WLBJ broadcast the 10:30 to 11 o'clock portion of the dance program. Several persons are reported to have come to the dance after having been impressed by the Larry Clinton broadcast.

Staff Members Attend Meeting

Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, and Robert G. Cochran, Western public relations department, and Mrs. Cochran attended the state-wide Army Advisory committee meeting in Louisville, March 26.

The afternoon session consisted of a round table discussion of problems confronting the Army and how local civilian committees can aid and advise the Army. The evening session consisted of a dinner, after which Major General Charles L. Mullins, Jr., deputy commander of the Second Army, Fort Meade, Maryland spoke. Major Sikes is the liaison officer for the local committee.

KEA To Meet In Louisville April 20, 21, 22

The seventy-seventh convention of the Kentucky Education Association will meet in Louisville on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 20, 21 and 22. An attendance of approximately 6000 educators is expected.

At the luncheon and afternoon meetings to be held each day, approximately forty different departments and associated groups will present programs covering practically every phase of education.

The speakers of the convention are nationally known leaders in their respective fields. The Honorable Alben W. Barkley, vice president of the United States, will highlight the convention with an address at the final session on Friday evening. Other noted speakers will include: Senator Margaret Chase Smith from Maine, who has been named "Woman of the Year" for 1948 by the Associated Press; Dr. William G. Carr, secretary of the Educational Policies Commission, Dr. Wm. Clayton Bower, professor emeritus of the divinity school of the University of Chicago; and Miss Mabel Studebaker, biology teacher at Erie, Pennsylvania, and president of the National Education Association.

Several members of the Western faculty will preside over the various departmental groups of the respective fields: Dr. Earl A. Moore, Kentucky Council of Teachers of English; Miss Willie Moss, Home Economics Education; Dr. Gordon Wilson, Kentucky Folklore Society; Dr.

Mary Catron To Sing In Opera

Mary Catron, coloratura soprano who was recently presented in a popular concert with Steeley Veach, has signed a contract with the San Francisco Opera company. The contract, which goes into effect the last of May, is for the fall seasons of 1949 and 1950, which begin in September and end in November. The San Francisco Opera company is the second largest in the United States, second only to the Metropolitan company.

The San Francisco company engages Metropolitan stars only. Their first opera for the '49 season will be THE MASTER SINGER, starring Jan Peerce.

While studying music at the Juilliard school of music in New York, Miss Catron sang for Toscanini, Wilfred Piltner, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, II, and with the Metropolitan chorus. For two seasons she sang with the St. Louis Municipal Opera company, and has concertized. During this period Kurt Adler, stage manager of the San Francisco company, and C. Morala, general manager of the San Francisco company and one of the owners of United Artists, heard Miss Catron sing. This audition led to the acceptance of the contract for the coming season. She attended Juilliard for four years.

She was born at Wilmore, while her father, a Christian minister, was attending Asbury seminary.

Formerly from Louisville, where she was graduated from Louisville

LOUISVILLE PHILHARMONIC RETURNS

Guest Editorial By Dr. Weldon Hart

Dennis Lilly, Bowling Green baritone, scored an outstanding success in his appearance as soloist with the Louisville Philharmonic orchestra in Van Meter auditorium Saturday evening, March 26. Mr. Lilly sang two numbers with the orchestra, the aria "Di Provenza," from the opera LA TRAVIATA, by Verdi, and the famous prologue from I PAGLIACCI by Leoncavallo. He performed with authority and excellent musicianship, and his efforts were rewarded by vigorous and prolonged applause. Mr. Lilly possesses a voice which easily meets the demands of singing with full symphonic accompaniment from the standpoint of volume, and it is at the same time a voice of remarkably pleasing quality. His performance Saturday was a great credit to Mr. Lilly, to Western's department of music where he is majoring in music, and to Bowling Green.

In spite of the early spring rain, which began just at concert time, the Louisville players under the direction of Robert Whitney, were greeted by a comfortably filled house of music lovers from Bowling Green and surrounding communities. Beginning with the Overture to THE MARRIAGE OF FIGARO, by Mozart, the orchestra continued with the great FIFTH SYMPHONY by Beethoven, which received its first performance in Bowling Green. After intermission, Mr. Lilly sang his numbers, and the remainder of the printed program consisted of Strauss' "Emperor Waltz," and the well-known "Finlandia," by Sibelius. The audience was most appreciative of the orchestra's efforts, and was rewarded with four encores, and obviously would have stayed for a great many more had the orchestra brought them along.

The Saturday evening concert was the second of two presented by the Philharmonic on its second visit to Bowling Green. In the afternoon, some 800 school children heard one of the orchestra's famous "Making Music" concerts. A large number of these young students were guests of members of the Bowling Green Kiwanis club and other interested individuals, who were anxious that all children who wished to attend the concert might have an opportunity to do so.

The Louisville Philharmonic orchestra and its capable conductor are doing a real service in presenting concerts of great orchestral music in representative towns throughout the state. It is to be hoped that they will continue to include Bowling Green on their itinerary. The increase in interest and attendance this year as compared to last year would indicate that they will be greeted by an ever increasing audience.

KEEP THE CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL!

"Powder Cherry Hall with Sunshine" might well be the theme of the painters who have been brightening its interior with a new coat of paint, and at the present rate the Western campus soon will have followed the popular tune and "put on a great big smile."

As the first robin stepped upon the scene, and students began to dream of fishing poles and "far away places," the school maintenance department mustered their brooms, shovels, paint brushes, and pruning shears for the annual spring campus clean-up campaign.

Effects are being shown in a neater campus. Dead underbrush and shrubbery, along with the winter's accumulation of trash is being disposed of. Stone walls and walks are being repaired, and broken plaster is being replaced. Fertilizer spread on Ogden campus is making its grass greener than ever.

How will you as a student react to this clean-up campaign? Will you make paths and gullies by refusing the walks? Will your "careless hands" and shoe soles smear a frown of disgust on Cherry hall's freshly painted walls? Will cigarettes and wrappers clutter the campus again?

Spring has brought to our campus a beauty excelled nowhere in the state. Let's preserve and maintain that beauty!

June Graduates To Appear In Chapel

The June graduating class of 1949 will make its first appearance in academic costume at the annual Senior Day chapel on Wednesday morning, May 4 at 10 a. m. The program will begin and close with the traditional processional and recessional of the class.

Dr. Earl A. Moore, of the English department and sponsor of the senior class, will be the principal speaker of the morning. Senior class president, Joe W. Phillips, will speak also on behalf of the graduating class.

The entire day is to be set aside by the college as a mark of honor to the June graduates. The program of the day will be broadcast over radio stations WKCT and WLBJ.

The annual senior class banquet will be held at the State Street Methodist church on Tuesday evening, May 3, as previously announced by G. Frank Cole, general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Four Serve With Ridgecrest Staff

Four members of the Western Baptist Student Union have been selected to serve on the staff of the summer assembly of the Southern Baptist convention at Ridgecrest, North Carolina.

This occasion is the first in the history of the local organization that more than one has been accepted. Last year La Verne Van Cleave represented Western on the staff. This year Western will be represented by Betty McClellan and Edna Mae Parks, graduating seniors; Juanita McClellan, sophomore; and Emily Helm, freshman. Miss Parks is from Owensboro, while the remaining three are from Bowling Green.

The assembly runs from May 30 to August 28. The staff is composed largely of Baptist students from throughout the South. Usually about 800 applications are received and 250 accepted.

Weather Station Again Established

Western again has a weather station.

Inactive since 1942, the College Heights Weather station is back in operation under the supervision of Mr. Willard Cockrill, geography and meteorology teacher. The station, located on the roof of Cherry hall, makes all daily weather observations used in making forecasts. This includes temperature readings, pressure changes, sky conditions, recordings of amount of precipitation, wind direction, and wind velocity.

The station is operated in connection with geography 121, a course designed to give the student an appreciation of weather and climate. During the period from 1930 to 1942 the station also rendered a public service by supplying the PARK CITY DAILY NEWS with daily weather data.

Western Student Has West Point Appointment

Robert Wells, a Western sophomore, has been appointed to West Point. The appointee is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Wells of St. Augustine, Florida.

He and Frank Drew, another student appointed to the Academy, have taken aptitude and physical examinations.

Wells is a member of the football squad and is active in baseball and track. At Western he has been following a pre-veterinary course.

Barbre Appointed To Materials Committee

Norris Barbre, of the physics department, was recently appointed to the Steering committee of the group on abrasion properties during the meeting of the American Society of Testing Materials held in the Park Sheraton hotel in New York.

He also attended a series of meetings in Philadelphia and Washington D. C. in connection with his duties as consultant of the office of the Quartermaster General.

Qualified reserve officers in this vicinity may now be placed on active duty with the Western ROTC unit for a period of less than 90 days. Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, has announced.

Applicants for this type of duty must submit applications to Headquarters Kentucky Military District, Louisville, Kentucky, through the PMS and T at Western.

ROTC Riflemen Awarded Trophy

A new Eastern-Western marksmanship trophy has been won for a year by Western's ROTC rifle team. Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, has announced.

The Hilltoppers earned the bronze plaque by defeating Eastern 1048 x 2000 to 1556 in a shoulder-to-shoulder small bore rifle match here Saturday, March 19. That margin added to a 81 point victory over the Maroons earlier in the year gave Western a 173 point victory for the year.

Inscribed on the plaque is the name of the winning team, and mounted in front of it is the (bronze) statue of a rifleman. This trophy will remain with the winning team, but must be defended each year in a planned 12-year Eastern-Western series.

This year the plaque will be displayed with other trophies of the ROTC unit in the department of military science and will be open to public inspection.

Western's five high men were Cadets T/Sgt. W. C. Peyton, Second Lt. Frank Jones, S/Sgt. Harold Jones, T/Sgt. J. T. Harrison, and Cpl. M. N. Hood.

Coaching the Western riflemen are Sergeants Walton S. Birdsong and Fred Finley and Pfc. Edward McClure.

Dr. Bert R. Smith, of the education department, and Mrs. Smith recently attended the funeral of Dr. Smith's sister-in-law, Mrs. John B. Smith of Kirksey. Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband and five children.

Book Marks

In the library is a display of religious books suggested as good reading for the pre-Easter season. Included in this display are novels and more serious books by well-known religious writers.

Some of the novels are:

Agnes Turnbull, THE BISHOP'S MANTLE.

Nella White, NO TRUMPET BEFORE HIM.

Garth Hale, THE VICTORY OF PAUL KENT.

Lloyd C. Douglas, THE ROBE.

The more serious books include: Joseph Newton, HIS CROSS AND OURS.

Frank Thomas, THE COMING PRESENCE.

Sholem Asch, THE APOSTLE.

Sholem Asch, THE NAZARENE.

The degree of interest in the collection is shown by the increasing rate at which the books are being checked out. They may be borrowed for two weeks.

Of the books published in 1948, the editors of PARENTS' magazine have chosen nine as being most useful to parents, according to an announcement in the April issue of the magazine. Selections were made in cooperation with bibliography committee of the Child Study Association of America.

Among the books that were selected are THE HAPPY HOME, by Agnes Benedict and Adele Franklin (Appleton-Century-Crafts, $2.75); and LIFE WITH FAMILY, by Jean Schick Grossman, (Appleton-Century-Crafts, $3.00) on family relations. In the field of sex and marriage, LET'S TELL THE TRUTH ABOUT SEX, by Howard Whitman (Pellegrini and Cudaky, $2.50); ETHICS IN SEX CONDUCT, by Clarence Leuba (Associated Press, $2.50); and MODERN PATTERN FOR MARRIAGE, by Walter R. Stokes, LL. B., M. D. (Rinehart $2.25) were chosen.

Two books on home-school relations were included: YOUR PART IN YOUR CHILD'S EDUCATION, by Bess B. Lane (Dutton, $2.50); and I LEARN FROM CHILDREN: AN ADVENTURE IN PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION, by Caroline Pratt (Simon and Schuster $2.25). The committee also chose two books in mental hygiene: PSYCHIATRY: ITS EVOLUTION AND PRESENT STATUS, by William C. Menninger, M. D. (Cornell University Press, $2.00) and YOU AND PSYCHIATRY, by Munro Leaf and William C. Menninger, M. D. (Scribner's $2.50).

Miss Ruby Smith, state president of The Association For Childhood Education, was a visitor on the campus March 24. Miss Smith is head of the elementary education department at Murray State college.

Miss Marjorie Clagett and Miss Sibyl Stonecipher of the foreign language department attended the State Foreign Language conference at the University of Kentucky, April 4.

Art Department Head Attends Art Conference

Miss Ruth Hines Temple, head of the art department, attended the recent meetings of the Southeastern College Art conference held at the University of Louisville.

A highlight of the conference was a speech by Dr. Lester Longman, head of the art department at the University of Iowa. He spoke at a dinner given by the University of Louisville at the Arts club in the Watterson hotel.

Louisville architecture was observed on the group's tour of the city. Miss Temple saw examples not only of old architecture, but of such modern buildings as the new Courier-Journal building. She was especially impressed by the murals by Henry Varnum Poore in the new building.

Mary Ruth Page Wins In REA Essay Contest

Mary Ruth Page, English major, was notified recently that she was one of the four winners in an essay contest sponsored by the Kentucky Electric Co-Op Power company and would receive an electrical appliance valued at $300.00.

The topic of her essay was "What REA Co-Op Power Has Meant To Rural People."

Miss Page is from Cane Valley.

Student Health Protected Through Insurance Set-Up

Student health is being safeguarded with greater attention than ever before through the student health service now in operation at Western. College officials have explained how each part of the program operates and how the individual student benefits from it.

The health insurance program hinges around the building up of a health fund sufficient to take care of normal student hospitalization. The $1.25 collected from each student at the beginning of the semester guarantees for that term at least one full week of hospitalization in case it is necessary. As long as the amount of money in the fund permits, the current policy of paying for even more than a week's hospitalization will be continued.

Paid, for the student, under the insurance plan is the cost of a hospital room, all hospital supplies, necessary x-rays, and vaccinations. In case of an operation the fee of the doctor administering the anesthetic is paid for by the school; however, fees charged by surgeons and other outside doctors are not covered by the program.

To be eligible for the hospitalization benefits a student must be enrolled in the college. The health fee is collected at registration.

Since the inauguration of the student health insurance program in March, 1943, the college has paid hospitalization costs in 101 cases. Amounts paid vary. An appendectomy, for example, usually takes about $60 from the fund. The largest amount yet paid in a single case is $370.50.

Serving students both at Western and the Training school is a clinic located in the Training school. The college employs a half-time doctor and a full-time nurse, who operate the clinic for observation.

A college physician was employed for the first time in September, 1947, when Dr. Paul Q. Peterson began to work part-time in that capacity. Dr. Peterson remained at Western until December of that year. Since September 1948, Dr. G. M. Wells has been part-time college physician. He also serves as head of the Warren county health department.

Miss Bertie Louise Redd, R. N., has been school nurse since 1928. She is a graduate nurse from the Saint Thomas hospital in Nashville and works on a full-time basis.

The health clinic is open for consultation on all medical problems which arise, Dr. Wells reports. The majority of cases just now are for shots, colds, sore throats, and injuries. Dr. Wells' office hours are from 1 to 4 p. m. Nurse Redd is in the clinic from 8:30 to 11 a. m. and from 12 to 4 p. m.

All children in the Training school and all Western freshmen are given required physical examinations at the clinic when entering for the fall semester. Immunization shots are available for all students in both schools.

Hospitalization is often unnecessary for minor cases of sickness among girls. The 12-bed infirmary in West hall is available for such cases and may be used by a girl as long as she needs its services.

In earlier days the infirmary was located in Potter hall, but in January, 1929, it was moved to the newly opened West hall where it has remained since. The services of Dr. Wells and Nurse Redd are also available to patients in the infirmary.

Briggs Elevated To Executive Position

Robin M. Briggs, AB'46, has recently become an account executive with the Boone Advertising agency. Mr. Briggs resides at 2806 Newburg Road, Louisville, and for two years has been a member of the advertising copy service department of the COURIER-JOURNAL and The Louisville TIMES.

After graduating from Western, Mr. Briggs attended Pratt Art school in Brooklyn, N. Y. During the war, he served three years in the Army Air Corps in the Mediterranean theater.

He is the son of Mrs. Hallie Briggs, Bowling Green.

Miss Sibyl Stonecipher of the foreign language department is attending the three-day meeting of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South in Richmond, Virginia.

Headquarters are at the John Marshall hotel. Part of the sessions are being held at the hotel and part at the University of Richmond. One day is being spent at William and Mary college at Williamsburg, Virginia.

Senior Class President Has Many Varied Duties

Mr. Phillips managed to work in a quarter's work at Western before allying himself with Uncle Sam's Navy in the fall of 1944. Like so many before him, Joe went through his Navy preliminaries at Great Lakes, Illinois, th, Navy's "Boot" camp training center, from which he was graduated to Radio Operator school at Gulfport, Mississippi. As a full fledged radio operator he was then ready to unfold the travel fold-

A very unassuming person, Joe readily gave credit for the efficiency governing the senior class to his fellow officers, faculty members, and the senior class body as a whole. He remarked without their cooperation the job would be of an impossible nature.

Club News

CLASSICAL
The F. C. G. Classical club had for its program topic on Wednesday evening, March 23, "Christianity In Rome", a continuation of last meeting's topic. The program consisted of three divisions.

James Alvey discussed Christianity, the Christian church, and persecutions beginning in 867, and their severity until they ceased in 313, ten years afterwards, by order of Constantine.

The attitudes of Christianity during the reign of Constantine was reviewed by John Johnston, in a discussion in which he pointed out the arguments against Christianity, the controversy between the church and the state, and Constantine's feeling toward the church especially after he was converted to Christianity.

These discussions were followed by Opal Wilson Willoughby's description and talk on the "Catacombs of Rome" in which the Christian cemeteries were described and discussed as to their origin, the changes made in them through the centuries, and the interest shown in them by the Roman citizens.

The meeting was concluded with the club's singing of "Gaudemus Itiger, Uocem Te Amantem", and "Integar Vitae", followed by refreshments.

PHYSICS COLLOQUIUM

Phil Wilken of the chemistry department spoke at the physics colloquium on March 6 at 7 p.m. in Cherry hall. Mr. Wilken's topic was "Use of radio-active isotopes in determining structures of organic compounds." Twenty members were present.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Another tape recording of the 1949 quiz show on "French in Western Kentucky" was made by the French club when it met Tuesday evening. Several students qualified for the jackpot question and received free cokes. The jackpot, however, stumped all contenders.

Guest of the French club for its Tuesday evening meeting was Madame Pingon.

Faculty Notes

Dr. W. M. Willey, of the education department, led a panel discussion at the regular Young People's meeting of the State Street Methodist church Sunday April 3.

Mr. Joseph Howard, of the education department, worked last Wednesday with Miss Ruth Dunn, elementary supervisor of Jefferson county schools, in an observation of some Jefferson county schools.

The study is being made to determine the extent of accomplishments made since last fall on recommendations made by Mr. Howard at that time for improvements in the programs of these schools.

Mr. George Page and Norris Barbre of the physics department will attend the southeast section of the American Physical society meeting at Clemson College, Clemson, South Carolina on April 15 and 16. While there Mr. Barbre will attend a three day meeting of the Fiber society.

Mr. Charles L. Taylor, head of the agriculture department, was the principal speaker last Tuesday at the Father and Son banquet of the Future Farmers chapter at Caneyville.

Mr. Charles L. Taylor, head of the agriculture department, attended the meeting of the South Warren Future Farmers of America chapter on March 25.

Norris Barbre, of the physics department, spent March 8 and 9 on the campus of Purdue university, Lafayette, Indiana, discussing problems in infrared spectroscopy with members of the Purdue physics department.

President Paul L. Garrett attended the meeting of the State personnel council at Frankfort, March 28-29. President Garrett is a member of the council.

Norris Barbre, of the physics department, has moved from Rockfield to Nutwood avenue, Bowling Green.

Mr. Charles L. Taylor, of the agriculture department, attended a meeting of soil conservation district supervisors at Frankfort, March 24.

Miss Margaret Marks, of Hartford, was the recent guest of Miss Mary Marks of the geography department. While here she attended the Louisville Philharmonic orchestra concert.

Miss Mina White of Black Port, a Western alumnus, was recently guest of Miss Mildred Marks of the geography department.

Miss Frances Richards, of the English department, spent the weekend with Misses Julia Neal and Maurine Sublett, of the State Teachers college at Florence, Alabama. Both ladies are graduates of Western; Miss Neal is a member of the English faculty of the Florence teachers college, and Miss Sublett is dean of women. Miss Neal is a former member of the English faculty at Western. Miss Sublett taught in the history department at Western during one summer session.

Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, plans to attend Tuesday a preliminary conference at Camp Campbell on the ROTC summer camp to be held at the camp during June and July.

Major Sikes' duties will be assistant S-4 (supply). ROTC students from Western will attend the summer camp.

Indiana Will Test Topper Strength In Opening Game

Preparations for the 1949 baseball campaign got under way Monday afternoon as some fifty aspirants reported for Coach E. A. Diddle's first practice session. The initial outing was limited to conditioning and a slight amount of batting practice. Because of inclement weather, practice Tuesday was forced inside to the gymnasium and was limited to workouts by prospective pitchers and catchers.

Returning lettermen were few in number as the early workouts got under way. Obviously the current aggregation will be composed primarily of faces not around as the season closed last year. Among the ones returning are pitchers, Jim Pickens, Doyle McGuffey, and Eddie Diddle; infielders, Hal Taylor, Johnny Baker and William Bell; with Bill Siddens as the only veteran outfielder.

Based on last seasons performances the pitching staff should be unusually strong and well balanced. Opening day duties will probably fall on the good right arm of Jim Pickens who gave some impressive performances during the 1948 campaign. Doyle McGuffey is expected to be the first choice of the portside crew based on the left hand ability he exhibited last year. The mound corps is strengthened by some of the better looking first year prospects.

The Hilltoppers open the season

Cardinals Open Season April 11

The College High Cardinals will open their baseball season here April 11, against Scottsville and play home - and - home tilts with Brownsville, Cave City, Kyrock, and Hiseville. They also will compete in the district meet, expected to be held here in May.

Coach Dero Downing, who announced the 10-game schedule last week for the district champions, said the leading candidates include Francis Fleenor, pitcher and shortstop; Rhea Lazarus, first base and pitcher;

- June 2 or 3—U. of Louisville, Louisville.

West Hall Girls Win Tournament

Picking the champion of the women's intramural basketball league was a man-sized task. The eventual, and now reigning, champion is West hall —by virtue of a 52-28 victory over rival Potter hall in the March 29 finals. But the contest was not as simple as that.

The original championship game had been played a week earlier. That game had ended with a score reading 38-37. The jackpot question was: which team had the 38 points? The Potter hall girl keeping score had 38 tallies marked for her team. The rival scorer had 38 points marked for the West hall girls. The ensuing technical discussion ended in an impasse, and the game was declared null and void. A replay of the game was scheduled.

With full conviction of firmness in the right, both aggregations again took their disputes to the hardwood, each resolved to right the injustice previously accorded the "old home-stand."

Linda Hayes and Mary Jane Johnson led the way as the West hall girls quickly compiled a lead which they never relinquished. Miss Johnson led the West hall scoring with 23 points, while Miss Hayes followed closely with 20.

The cause of Potter hall fell manfully on the shoulders of one Robbie Anderson who collected 24 of her team's 28 points. She exhibited a spectacular shooting performance with an assortment of set shots and erips.

About 100 spectators saw the two teams play some spirited and determined ball in deciding the victor.

No "scoring" disputes arose during the second game.

Sergeant Herbert L. Cutsinger went Tuesday to Fort Knox where he reenlisted for three years for duty with the ROTC section of the Army.

PROVE CAMEL MILDNESS

IN YOUR "T-ZONE!"

Prove for yourself what throat specialists reported when 30-day smoking test revealed

NO THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

In that test, hundreds of men and women, from coast to coast, smoked Camels, and only Camels, for 30 consecutive days—an average of one to two packs a day. And the noted throat specialists who examined the throats of these smokers each week—a total of 2470 careful examinations—reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

Make the Camel mildness test. Test Camels yourself for 30 days in your own "T-Zone"... T for Taste and T for Throat.

Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about the rich, full flavor of Camel's choice tobaccos—so carefully aged and expertly blended. Let YOUR OWN THROAT tell you the wonderful story of Camel's cool, cool mildness.

You'll enjoy the test...every puff of it. You'll enjoy Camels.

Money-Back Guarantee!

Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage. (Signed) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

According to a Nationwide survey:

MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE

Doctors smoke for pleasure, too! And when three leading independent research organizations asked 113,597 doctors what cigarette they smoked, the brand named most was Camels!

Third Drama Of Series Enacted

LIFE WITH FATHER by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, was presented last evening in Van Meter auditorium by the Western Players.

Mr. Russell H. Miller directed the play and the members of the cast included Father (Bob Spiller), Vinnie (Martha Crady), Clarence, Jr. (Thomas W. White), John (Joe Kimbrough), Whitney (Bill Dolan), Harlan (Gary Roberts), Cousin Cora (Delphine Cunningham), Mary Skinner (George Anne Lowe). In the parts of the maids were Annie (Goldie Wilson), Della (Georgia Howard), Nora (Carolyn Carr), Maggie (Betty Ray), and Margaret (Mildred Burns). A. J. McCarty was Dr. Lyod; David Mefford was Dr. Humphreys; Bob Rogers was Dr. Somers; and Owen McPeck played the part of Dr. Stevens.

The technical staff was drawn from the members of the play production class and members of the Western Players.

Bob Rogers was the stage manager with the assistance of David Mefford. On the make-up committee were Carolyn Carr and Delphine Cunningham.

This drama was the last in a series of Americana plays given this year by the Western Players. Others in the series include the fall production of MISSOURI LEGEND, and THE CONTRAST.

Army Day Talks Heard Over WLBJ

Two radio programs in observance of Army day were presented on WLBJ by members of the ROTC last week.

Major Glenn A. Sikes, professor of military science and tactics, was interviewed on the subject of Army day by Miss Elizabeth Causey and announcer Joe Hamilton Tuesday morning.

Six cadets participated in a round-table discussion of ROTC and the Army as a career in a broadcast at 3:30 Thursday afternoon. The cadets were Kenneth H. Holloway, Robert E. Spiller, Frank Drew, Skiles B. Harris, Frank Wallheiser, and Thomas Redford.

Mrs. Bert R. Smith Presented Award

Mrs. Bert R. Smith, president of the Bowling Green-Warren County Tuberculosis Association, was presented the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association's annual loyalty award yesterday at Louisville.

Selected as the individual having made the greatest voluntary contribution to the anti-tuberculosis fight in the state, Mrs. Smith was presented the award, an orchid, by Dr. L. E. Smith, executive secretary of the Kentucky association.

Mrs. Smith returned to Bowling Green last night.

Western Music Students Perform In Tennessee

Members of the Western music department journeyed to Bristol, Tennessee, to play a concert sponsored by the Beta club of Tennessee high school on April 1, 1949 at 8:15 o'clock p. m.

Teaching in the music department of Tennessee high school is Ambrose Paluzzi, BS'48.

Those students performing were members of the clarinet trio, Messrs. Wayne Pers, Robert Makeever, and Richard Borchardt; Dennis Lilly, baritone; Wayne Wilson, trombone; and assisting the students was Mr. Claude E. Rose as accompanist.

Open shop in the industrial arts department will begin soon, according to an announcement by the arts and crafts club, sponsors of the annual event. Plans have been made to launch a program that should offer a pleasant visit to any student taking the tour of this department.

A souvenir for the year has been selected.

Sanders Wins Ogden Contest

Ben Sanders, a junior from Marion, was named the winner of the annual Ogden Oratorical contest, held in chapel March 30.

Mr. Sanders, whose original oration was entitled "Rendezvous With Destiny," is a son of a Methodist minister and is sports editor of the HERALD.

Two other speakers competing in the contest were Kermit Binkley, who spoke on "Cesspools of Crime," and Ralph Allen, whose subject was "The Way to Freedom."

The three finalists were selected from a field of six which opened the annual contest March 28.

The contest, a traditional commencement week event at old Ogden college, has been continued each year at Western since the merger of the two institutions in 1928. This year, the program was presented in connection with the annual Ogden day observance celebrated annually near April 1 in memory of Robert W. Ogden, who established the school.

The Ogden college regent, Cooper Smith, and a number of Ogden alumni were in attendance at the program. Serving as judges in the contest were the Reverend James A. Lolis; W. L. Matthews Sr., and Alvis Temple.

Dr. Anna Maria Conforto, young Italian physicist now at Washington university, St. Louis, on an American Association of University Women study grant, addressed three groups here recently on the subjects of education in Italy and her research in cosmic rays at Washington.

Coach Ed Diddle was introduced next. The coach thanked all persons and groups who have helped make the team what it is and recognized in particular Ken Given, WLBJ manager and sports announcer, who was present at the exercises. Mr. Given has been at the mike for every Western basketball game at home or away since 1942.

In presenting the trophies won in the Ohio Valley Conference Coach Diddle said, "We don't have the National Invitational trophy this morning, but I'll say one thing: we're not going to quit until we bring that National Invitational cup back to Western."

The program was concluded in front of Van Meter auditorium where bills of sale were presented Coach Ed Diddle and Asst. Coach Ted Hornback for the new automobiles received last month at the annual Basketball Appreciation Dinner sponsored by the Jaycees. The program was carried by both WLBJ and WKCT.

Hugh D. Shannon, sophomore on the Hill, spent the week end with his fiancée, Dot Covington, at White House, Tennessee.

Kentucky Building News

By Charles Wheeler

All four broadcasts from the Kentucky building this month will deal with Scottsville and Allen county. Dr. J. L. Harmon, former president of the Business University, is guest speaker for the first two broadcasts. Dr. Harmon's family has lived in Allen county for several generations, and he has many records of the county's early history.

On the first broadcast Dr. Harmon told of the early school life of Allen county and the hardships of transportation because of the lack of good roads.

Dr. Harmon may be heard again this Friday afternoon at 4:45 p. m.

Few people in this section realize how famous the Kentucky building is. If the average student at Western were told that more than thirty thousand people from every state visit the Kentucky building each year, he would probably say, "I don't believe it." Nevertheless this statement is true.

To demonstrate the vast interest shown the Kentucky building, listed below are the student groups and various organizations that have visited the museum since February 1.

On March 10 a group of thirty-five homemakers from Iowa were entertained with tea by forty members of the Warren County Homemakers club. The Iowa group is touring the south in a chartered bus. They had heard about the Kentucky building's collections, and they were delighted with what they saw.

The Woman's club of Smiths Grove spent the afternoon of March 17, St. Patrick's Day, in the museum. Twenty members of the club were present.

Forty members of Bristow high school spent the afternoon of February 10 in the museum.

On February 11 sixty-seven members of the Browning school at Rockfield visited the Kentucky building.

The sixth grade of the training school were entertained the afternoon of March 3. This group numbered seventeen.

Mr. Robert F. Strange brought the third grade pupils of the Center street school to the museum on March 14 for a visit.

Mrs. Josephine Daugherty brought the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students of Greenwood school to the Kentucky building on March 18.

Since February 1 the Kentucky building has also been visited by residents of nineteen states besides Kentucky. These include Indiana, Arkansas, West Virginia, California, Michigan, Illinois, New Jersey, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, Kansas, Ohio, Alabama, Florida, New York, Georgia, Iowa, Mississippi, and Missouri.
